

The Tenant Farmers

Lesson 3

Luke 20:9-19

20 June 2010

Jesus knew at this time that His arrest was imminent. Leading up to this period Jesus continued teaching in the Temple to many who were His disciples. As we already are aware, the chief priests, scribes and tax collectors are monitoring everything Jesus teaches, trying to trap Him. In this portion of Scripture, Jesus tells His followers the parable of the Tenant Farmer, knowing all along whose ears this will fall upon.

1. In this parable, whom does the landowner represent?

2. In Isaiah 5:1-7 what does the vineyard signify?

3. Whom do the vinedressers represent?

4. In this parable the servants are a metaphor of what?

5. The owners son is a metaphor of whom?

6. Looking at this line of scripture what else does it tell you about men vs God?
